Dear (NAME OF HR),

As I was browsing through the list of the companies that are partnered with our school, I happened to saw your company. As a growing web developer, I'm excited to pick up new skills, work with experts in a team, and add my knowledge to exciting projects. I'd love to bring my skills and enthusiasm to your growing development team.

I am a capable, and a goal-oriented developer and I wanted to apply for internship because I want to showcase my skills that match your job description. Both in my current position and during my academic career, I have always been refining my skills and push myself to excel on what I do. Throughout my academic career, I have been involved in many initiatives where I have developed original and engaging projects.

I already have a proven track record of success in life, and I hope to bring that success to your business. To date, some of my greatest accomplishments have been winning team sports at school, receiving great grades in college, and earning credentials that have improved my abilities.

I know I have to put in a lot of effort to fulfill your strategic and commercial goals, and your team will benefit greatly from my eagerness and thirst for knowledge. I'd be happy to discuss my potential contributions to your team in greater detail. I think my expertise in web development would be a great asset to your team. I appreciate you taking the time to consider this.

Best Regards,

Archie Custodio
